EXPLANATORY NOTES REGARDING PERFORMANCE

Gross fund performance (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, management fees), net fund performance also takes into account the subscription fee. Further costs may be charged individually at customer level (e.g. custody fees, commissions and other charges). Example calculation (net method): An investor wishes to buy shares with capital of €1,000. Based on a maximum subscription fee of 5%, €50 will be deducted from their investment as a one-off initial charge. In addition, custody fees may also be applied, which will further reduce the investor's return. The level of custody fees can be found in your bank's schedule of fees and services. Please refer to the cost details presented in this document to determine the maximum subscription fee for the share class of the sub-fund. The reference index is merely informative. It does not constitute any obligation from the fund manager to track the index or achieve the same performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The air strikes on Iran and the resulting de facto closure of the Strait of Hormuz led to a sharp rise in energy prices and weighed on international financial markets. Consequently, investors turned their attention to inflation risks and the potential impact on growth and the economy. This complex situation also led to a reassessment of the monetary policy outlook. In the eurozone in particular, initial interest-rate hikes were priced in, whilst in the US fewer interest-rate cuts are now expected than at the start of the year. This was also reflected in long-term yields, which – as measured by 10-year German Bunds – rose by 37 basis points over the course of the month. Against this backdrop, the global equity market, as measured by the MSCI World (in euros, including dividends), fell by 4.1%. Bond markets were also under pressure, as reflected in a decline of 2.0% in the Bloomberg Global Aggregate (EUR hedged). Gold also corrected by more than 20% from over USD 5,400 to below USD 4,400 at times – partly due to forced sales to raise liquidity, a pattern not uncommon in the early days of a crisis. For investors in the eurozone, however, a stronger US dollar had a positive effect, gaining 2.2% over the course of the month. Towards the end of the month, hopes of a resolution to the conflict led to a slight easing of tensions in the markets. Against this backdrop, the Fund recorded a decline of -4.3%. Bonds and equities delivered the highest negative returns. In the equity segment, no new stocks were added, and no positions were fully sold. There were only minor adjustments to existing positions. At the end of the month, the equity allocation stood at 26.7%. There were more changes in the bond portfolio. Among other things, we participated in new issues by Amphenol, Amazon and Royal Schiphol. Conversely, we sold corporate bonds issued by Evonik, Sandoz and Alimentation Couche-Tard. At the end of the month, the bond allocation stood at 55.3%, with duration and current yield at 6.4 and 3.6%, respectively. The weighted average rating of the bond portfolio remained at AA.

Flossbach von Storch - Multi Asset - Defensive - RT

OPPORTUNITIES

- + Flexible investment policy without benchmarking.
- + Risk is broadly diversified by investing in a range of asset classes (e.g. equities, bonds, convertible bonds and precious metals [indirect]). Market potential can be exploited by investing across a wide range.
- + Investing in assets denominated in a foreign currency can have a positive impact on unit values as a result of exchange rate movements.
- + Derivatives can be used to increase potential yields.
- + Precious metals [indirect] (e.g. in the form of gold) can be used to increase potential yields.

RISKS

- Market risks: The securities in which the Management Company invests the sub-fund assets present opportunities for gain but also the possibility of risk. The ESG criteria restrict the selection of target investments in terms of category and number, sometimes considerably. If a sub-fund invests directly or indirectly in securities and other assets, it is subject to many general trends and tendencies on the markets, which are sometimes attributable to irrational factors, particularly on the securities markets. Losses can occur when the market value of the assets decreases against the cost price. If a unit holder disposes of units in a sub-fund at a time when the quoted price of the sub-fund assets is less than at the time of investment, then the unit holder will not recover the full value of the investment. While each sub-fund constantly strives to achieve growth, growth cannot be guaranteed. The risk exposure of the investor is, however, limited to the sum invested. There is no obligation to make additional capital contributions beyond investors' investments.
- Currency risks: If a sub-fund holds assets which are denominated in foreign currencies, it shall be subject to currency risk. In the event of a devaluation of the foreign currency against the reference currency of the subfund, the value of the assets held in foreign currencies shall fall.
- Credit risks: The fund may invest part of its assets in bonds. The issuers of these bonds could become insolvent, causing the bonds to lose some or all of their value.
- Interest change risks: Investing in securities at a fixed rate of interest is connected with the possibility that the current interest rate at the time of issuance of a security could change. If the current interest rate increases as against the interest at the time of issue, fixed rate securities will generally decrease in value. Conversely, if the current interest rate falls, fixed rate securities will increase.
- Risks relating to the use of derivatives: The fund may enter into derivative transactions for the purposes listed in the key information document (PRIIP-KID) and the sales prospectus. This means increased opportunities, but also increased risk of losses. The use of derivatives to hedge against losses may also reduce the profit opportunities of the fund.
- Risks of precious metals and commodities: Precious metals and commodities may be subject to greater price fluctuations. Trading prices may also fall.

Medium-term: 3 to 5 years

RISK INDICATOR

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 3 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a low risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you. Unusual market conditions could arise, for example, due to currency, creditworthiness, price, counterparty, liquidity and interest rate risks, as detailed in the sales prospectus.
