INVESTMENT STRATEGY

Flossbach von Storch - Bond Opportunities is a globally diversified bond fund with an active investment approach that focuses on corporate bonds, government bonds and covered bonds. The Fund flexibly exploits the opportunities of the entire bond market. In addition to bonds with an investment-grade quality, the fund management can also invest in bonds without a rating or in those that do not have investment-grade quality. Foreign currency risks are currently only entered into to a manageable extent. Security selection is based on a fundamental analysis process. The fund manager relies on research tools developed in-house. Other in-house valuation models include ESG questions, and engagement. In addition, exclusion criteria defined as part of the Sub-Fund's investment policy are taken into account. The share class is hedged against currency fluctuations affecting the Sub-Fund currency.

The Sub-Fund is actively managed and not benchmarked against an index. The portfolio is composed by the fund manager exclusively in accordance with the criteria defined in the investment policy, reviewed regularly and adjusted if necessary. The sub-fund complies with the standards for credit quality and credit limits in the insurance industry. The Sub-Fund is categorized as an Article 8 product within the meaning of the Disclosure Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 (SFDR).

For detailed information on the objectives and investement policy, please refer to the most recent sales prospectus and the Key Information Document (PRIIP-KID).

EXPLANATORY NOTES REGARDING PERFORMANCE

Gross fund performance (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, management fees), net fund performance also takes into account the subscription fee. Further costs may be charged individually at customer level (e.g. custody fees, commissions and other charges). Example calculation (net method): An investor wishes to buy shares with capital of €1,000. Based on a maximum subscription fee of 5 %, € 50 will be deducted from their investment as a one-off initial charge. In addition, custody fees may also be applied, which will further reduce the investor's return. The level of custody fees can be found in your bank's schedule of fees and services. Please refer to the cost details presented in this document to determine the maximum subscription fee for the share class of the sub-fund. The reference index is merely informative. It does not constitute any obligation from the fund manager to track the index or achieve the same performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

In October, global bond markets recovered – albeit with significant divergence beneath the surface. Central banks on both sides of the Atlantic kept their key interest rates unchanged at their October meetings and, on the whole, provided little new impetus. Despite energy prices continuing to rise, prices of German Bunds and US Treasuries recovered noticeably from the yield highs seen at the end of September. In the five-year maturity segment, yields on German Bunds and US Treasuries fell by around 20 bps and just over 35 bps, respectively. In addition to what we consider to be an undervaluation of high-quality bonds, recent developments increasingly reflect concerns about a possible bursting of the AI bubble in the USA and the fact that the ECB's restrictive monetary policy stance is gradually reaching its limits. The latter has, particularly in France, exacerbated the outlook for interest expenditure – which was already too high – and led to a sell-off in French government bonds (OATs). The risk premiums on 10-year OATs rose by around 30 bps against German Bunds over the course of the month. Risk premiums on other spread products, such as Italian government bonds or corporate bonds, were also broadly around 10–15 basis points higher for 10-year maturities, and even higher in the high-yield segment. Thanks to our (moderately) aggressive duration of just under nine years and the portfolio's focus on quality, the Fund price recovered noticeably in October. Recent developments have reinforced our view that the ECB's restrictive stance increasingly poses risks to the growth outlook and may lead to collateral damage.
Within the portfolio, we have taken advantage of the short-term distortions among French issuers to accumulate high-quality credits with diversified businesses – such as Air Liquide and Michelin – at favourable valuations.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY - CONTINUED

As part of the first wave of new issues, we have also stepped up our purchases of corporate bonds – both in the investment-grade segment and, for the first time, in the subordinated and high-yield segments – now that risk premiums have broadly returned to more attractive levels. To free up cash for this, we sold some inflation-linked German and US Treasury bonds during the recovery in real yields. Furthermore, we have further increased our exposure to US dollar risk. As a result, the portfolio's duration has shortened by around 0.4 years overall; however, we continue to benefit significantly from a normalisation of yield levels and, thanks to the now higher proportion of corporate bonds and the fact that the duration gains were achieved primarily through derivatives, we still have a very attractive current yield that acts as a buffer against setbacks.

OPPORTUNITIES

+ Participate in global bond market growth.

+ Income can be generated from regular interest payments.

+ Active interest rate, currency and risk management (e.g. from the use of derivatives).

RISKS

- Country, credit and issuer liquidity risk. Also potential exchange rate risks. If securities are illiquid (i.e. thinly traded), there is a risk that it may either not be possible to sell the assets at all or only by accepting a significant discount on the sale price. Screening against an exclusion list may partially restrict the range and number of eligible target investments.
- Investing in bonds may entail price risks, especially in case of rising interest rates on the capital markets.
- Where used, derivatives can have a greater negative impact on the fund value than would be the case if the assets were acquired directly. This can affect the fund's risk profile and volatility (tendency for the price to fluctuate).

Please read the Prospectus and particularly the RISK WARNINGS section and the specific annex of the subfund to understand the risks and benefits of this product.

INVESTOR PROFILE

CONSERVATIVE:

The fund is appropriate for conservative investors. Due to the composition of the net sub-fund assets, there is a moderate degree of risk but also a moderate degree of profit potential. The risks may consist in particular of currency risk, credit risk and price risk, as well as market interest rate risks.

INVESTMENT HORIZON:

Medium- to long-term: Minimum 3 years

RISK INDICATOR

Lower risk ⟷ Higher risk

1	2	3	4	5	6	7

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for a minimum of 3 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less.The summary risk indicator ("SRI") is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. Unusual market conditions could arise, for example, due to currency, creditworthiness, price, counterparty, liquidity and interest rate risks, as detailed in the sales prospectus. We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a low risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact the Fund's capacity to pay you. This product does not include any protection from future market performance. Please refer to the 'Risk' section of the sales prospectus for more details.
