EXPLANATORY NOTES REGARDING PERFORMANCE

Gross fund performance (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, management fees), net fund performance also takes into account the subscription fee. Further costs may be charged individually at customer level (e.g. custody fees, commissions and other charges). Example calculation (net method): An investor wishes to buy shares with capital of €1,000. Based on a maximum subscription fee of 5%, € 50 will be deducted from their investment as a one-off initial charge. In addition, custody fees may also be applied, which will further reduce the investor's return. The level of custody fees can be found in your bank's schedule of fees and services. Please refer to the cost details presented in this document to determine the maximum subscription fee for the share class of the sub-fund. The reference index is merely informative. It does not constitute any obligation from the fund manager to track the index or achieve the same performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

Bond markets started the month focused on the political situation in France after Prime Minister Michel Barnier was voted out of office by a majority after only three months in power. Risk premiums on 10-year French government bonds climbed to new highs for the year. They remained at these elevated levels in the wake of a rating downgrade by Moody's and ongoing concerns about the new government's ability to act. Central banks provided fresh impetus in the second half of the month. The European Central Bank (ECB) cut its key interest rate by 25 basis points (bps) to 3.00% and signaled further scope for interest-rate cuts by revising downwards both its inflation and growth forecasts for 2025 and 2026. The US Federal Reserve (Fed) cut its key interest-rate range by 25 bps to 4.25-4.50% but announced that it was planning only two interest-rate cuts in 2025 (instead of four, as announced in September). At the same time, inflation expectations for 2025 and 2026 were revised upwards in view of the new administration's fiscal stimulus, with Fed Chair Jerome Powell pointing to increased scenario uncertainty. In a monthly comparison, yields were noticeably higher – in the five-year segment by around 33 bps for US Treasuries and by a good 23 bps for German Bunds. We used this setback to make some purchases. As the yield differential between the two currency areas widened to new highs for the year, we increased the proportion of US dollar duration in the portfolio, which had previously been significantly reduced in the summer. In order to be able to react to potential opportunities amid reduced liquidity at the end of the year, cash holdings were temporarily increased.

OPPORTUNITIES

- + Participate in global bond market growth.
- + Income can be generated from regular interest payments.
- + Active interest rate, currency and risk management (e.g. from the use of derivatives).

RISKS

- The securities in which the Management Company invests the sub-fund assets present opportunities for gain but also the possibility of risk. ESG criteria can restrict the selection of target investments in terms of category and number, sometimes considerably. If a sub-fund invests directly or indirectly in securities and other assets, it is subject to many general trends and tendencies, which are sometimes attributable to irrational factors on the markets particularly on the securities markets. Losses can occur when the market value of the assets decreases as against the cost price. If a unitholder sells units of the sub-fund at a time at which the value of assets in the sub-fund has decreased compared with the time of the unit purchase, he will not receive the full amount he has invested in the sub-fund. Despite the fact that each sub-fund aspires constant growth, this cannot be guaranteed.
- Country, credit and issuer liquidity risk. Also potential exchange rate risks. If securities are illiquid (i.e. thinly traded), there is a risk that it may either not be possible to sell the assets at all or only by accepting a significant discount on the sale price.
- Investing in bonds may entail price risks, especially in case of rising interest rates on the capital markets.
- Where used, derivatives can have a greater negative impact on the fund value than would be the case if the assets were acquired directly. This can affect the fund's risk profile and volatility (tendency for the price to fluctuate).

Please read the Prospectus and particularly the RISK WARNINGS section and the specific annex of the subfund to understand the risks and benefits of this product.

INVESTOR PROFILE

CONSERVATIVE:

The fund is appropriate for conservative investors. Due to the composition of the net sub-fund assets, there is a moderate degree of risk but also a moderate degree of profit potential. The risks may consist in particular of currency risk, credit risk and price risk, as well as market interest rate risks.

INVESTMENT HORIZON:

Medium-term: 3 to 5 years

RISK INDICATOR

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 3 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 2 out of 7, which is a low risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.
