

Flossbach von Storch - Global Emerging Markets Equities - R

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

Flossbach von Storch - Global Emerging Markets Equities is a globally diversified equity fund with an active investment approach. Its investment focus is on high-growth, quality companies from emerging markets as well as first-class companies from industrialised nations that generate a significant portion of their sales in emerging markets. Decisive factors in the selection of individual securities are the sustainability of the business model, competitive advantages, the quality of the management, as well as high sales visibility and profit margin stability. In addition, factors such as the institutional framework conditions, monetary and fiscal policy, inflation rates and currency development of the respective country flow into the evaluation process. The goal is to generate sustainable positive returns. In principle, there are no restrictions on the size of the companies. Sufficient liquidity is a prerequisite. Other in-house valuation models include ESG questions, engagement, and voting. In addition, exclusion criteria defined within the framework of the Sub-Fund's investment policy are taken into account. The Sub-Fund is actively managed. The portfolio is composed by the fund manager exclusively in accordance with the criteria defined in the investment policy, reviewed regularly and adjusted if necessary. The performance of the Sub-Fund is compared using the MSCI Emerging Markets Daily Net Total Return Index as a benchmark. The Investment Manager is not linked to the Index at any time when making investment decisions and the portfolio composition. Therefore, the performance of the Sub-Fund may differ significantly from the benchmark shown. The Sub-Fund is categorized as an Article 8 product under the Disclosure Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 (SFDR). For detailed information on the objectives and investment policy, please refer to the most recent sales prospectus and the Key Information Document (PRIIP-KID).

EXPLANATORY NOTES REGARDING PERFORMANCE

Gross fund performance (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, management fees), net fund performance also takes into account the subscription fee. Further costs may be charged individually at customer level (e.g. custody fees, commissions and other charges). Example calculation (net method): An investor wishes to buy shares with capital of €1,000. Based on a maximum subscription fee of 5 %, € 50 will be deducted from their investment as a one-off initial charge. In addition, custody fees may also be applied, which will further reduce the investor's return. The level of custody fees can be found in your bank's schedule of fees and services. Please refer to the cost details presented in this document to determine the maximum subscription fee for the share class of the sub-fund. The reference index is merely informative. It does not constitute any obligation from the fund manager to track the index or achieve the same performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

Emerging market equities fell slightly in March, but performed significantly better than equities from industrialised nations, which suffered from a weak US stock market and a depreciating US dollar. The markets in Eastern Europe recorded strong price increases, benefiting from an anticipated acceleration in growth as a result of the planned infrastructure package in Germany. The Indian equity market also made gains. The market benefited from increased liquidity in the banking system and an improvement in leading economic indicators. By contrast, the market in Taiwan recorded price declines due to weakness in the technology sector. Indian bank stocks rose sharply last month. The stocks of HDFC Bank, Kotak Mahindra Bank and ICICI Bank, which are represented in the portfolio, were among the winners. Investors expect the recent uptick in economic activity to have a positive impact on business activities. The Indian private banks held in the Fund have solid capital bases and currently low credit default rates. Stable interest margins and a growing loan book are fuelling rising corporate earnings. Kotak Mahindra Bank also benefited from the removal of restrictions by the central bank, enabling it to acquire new customers through online channels. In contrast, the shares of Latin American e-commerce and fintech provider Mercadolibre were among the losers. Although the company continues to post solid operating results, the previous positive share-price performance has recently led to profit-taking. The shares of Latin American digital bank Nu Holdings also fell. Market participants apparently expect that the newly introduced wage and salary loans could potentially cannibalise the existing loan business. We do not share this view and have taken advantage of the price weakness to add to our holdings. The shares of Taiwanese contract manufacturer of semiconductor products TSMC also fell. This should be seen in the context of a general share-price correction in the semiconductor sector.

OPPORTUNITIES

- + These funds aim to exploit growth opportunities on global equity markets.
- + Investing in assets denominated in a foreign currency can have a positive impact on unit values as a result of exchange rate movements.
- + Derivatives can be used to increase potential yields.

RISKS

- Equity markets and thus also unit values can experience severe fluctuations in response to market developments. The result can be a fall in the trading price. ESG criteria can restrict the selection of target investments in terms of category and number, sometimes considerably.
- Investing in assets denominated in a foreign currency can have a negative impact on unit values as a result of exchange rate movements.
- Where used, derivatives can have a greater negative impact on the fund value than would be the case if the assets were acquired directly. This can affect the fund's risk profile and volatility (tendency for the price to fluctuate).
- Investments in emerging markets – in addition to the specific risks of the asset class itself – are particularly exposed to liquidity risk and general market risk.
- In emerging markets the legal and regulatory environment as well as accounting, auditing and reporting standards may also vary considerably from the levels and standards that are otherwise common internationally.
- Higher custody risk.
- There is a risk from the possible investment in Chinese A-Shares, including possible additional clearing and settlement risks, as well as legal, operational, and risks in the form of limitations to investment opportunities.

Please read the Prospectus and particularly the RISK WARNINGS section and the specific annex of the subfund to understand the risks and benefits of this product.

INVESTOR PROFILE

SPECULATIVE:

The fund is appropriate for speculative investors. Due to the composition of the net sub-fund assets, there is a very high degree of risk but also a very high degree of profit potential. The risks may consist in particular of currency risk, credit risk and price risk, as well as market interest rate risks.

INVESTMENT HORIZON:

Long-term: over 5 years

RISK INDICATOR

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions could impact our capacity to pay you.
