

Flossbach von Storch - Multiple Opportunities II - CHF-IT³

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The Fund pursues an active investment approach. The Fund Manager can invest flexibly in the asset classes that appear attractive from his/her point of view in the respective capital market environment; the equity component is at least 25 per cent.

The basis for asset allocation is the Fund's own independent investment world view. The Fund deliberately does not follow any benchmark index. The primary objective is to generate attractive returns on a sustainable basis. The share class is hedged against currency fluctuations in the Sub-Fund currency. Whether an individual investment is attractive is assessed within the framework of a thorough company analysis.

The risk-reward ratio is decisive for every investment decision; the potential return must clearly overcompensate for any risk of loss. The portfolio structure is based on the five guidelines of the Flossbach von Storch Pentagram: diversification, quality, flexibility, solvency, and value. The composition of the portfolio is made by the Fund Manager exclusively in accordance with the criteria defined in the investment policy and is regularly reviewed and adjusted if necessary. The share class is hedged against currency fluctuations affecting the Sub-Fund currency.

The investment strategy includes in-house valuation models, ESG integration, engagement, and the exercise of voting rights. In addition, exclusion criteria defined within the Sub-Fund's investment policy are taken into account. The Sub-Fund is categorized as an Article 8 product within the definition of the Disclosure Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 (SFDR). For detailed information on the objectives and investment policy, please refer to the current Sales Prospectus and the Key Information Document (PRIIP-KID).

EXPLANATORY NOTES REGARDING PERFORMANCE

Gross fund performance (BVI method) takes into account all costs incurred at fund level (for example, management fees), net fund performance also takes into account the subscription fee. Further costs may be charged individually at customer level (e.g. custody fees, commissions and other charges). Example calculation (net method): An investor wishes to buy shares with capital of €1,000. Based on a maximum subscription fee of 5 %, € 50 will be deducted from their investment as a one-off initial charge. In addition, custody fees may also be applied, which will further reduce the investor's return. The level of custody fees can be found in your bank's schedule of fees and services. Please refer to the cost details presented in this document to determine the maximum subscription fee for the share class of the sub-fund. The reference index is merely informative. It does not constitute any obligation from the fund manager to track the index or achieve the same performance. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

The upward trend on the US equity market continued in July, leaving Donald Trump's tariff shock behind and reaching a new high. The trade agreements announced by the USA with Japan and the EU had a positive effect, as they suggest that tariff increases will be less drastic than originally feared. At the same time, the major US technology companies posted impressive quarterly results. The US dollar also recovered somewhat after the sharp losses of the previous months. The MSCI World Equity Index benefited from this due to its high US equity allocation. Measured in euros, the index gained 3.9%. This was significantly more than European equities, which ended July largely unchanged. There was also little change in bond yields and the price of gold.

Despite the renewed positive sentiment, many questions remain unanswered regarding tariff policy, particularly the specific details of implementation. Company executives confirm a lack of predictability, repeated adjustments to trading conditions and, as a result, subdued demand on the customer side. Numerous companies have therefore already been forced to revise their annual forecasts downwards. By contrast, major technology companies, such as Microsoft and Meta, achieved impressive growth rates, even helping the S&P 500 index in the US reach a new high.

The Fund's biggest winners included shares in consumer goods company Reckitt Benckiser, medical technology company Thermo Fisher and Legrand, a specialist in electrical and digital building infrastructure. All three companies posted significant gains after reporting strong quarterly results. Legrand also continued to benefit from AI-driven demand for data centre capacity. BMW was also among the positive contributors in July due to hopes of a reduction in the tariffs originally imposed. By contrast, Novo Nordisk shares performed poorly following an adjustment to its full-year forecast. The company has recently suffered from increasing competition and announcements by the US president that he intends to put pressure on drug prices. At Adidas, despite good quarterly figures, uncertainties prevailed regarding the actual tariffs to be paid on its products, which are mainly manufactured in Southeast Asia. The equity allocation increased slightly from the previous month to 77.3 % (gross), but this is still offset by temporary hedging on the S&P 500 and EURO STOXX 50 of around 10 percentage points.

Flossbach von Storch - Multiple Opportunities II - CHF-IT

OPPORTUNITIES

- + Flexible investment policy without benchmarking.
- + Risk is broadly diversified by investing in a range of asset classes (e.g. equities, bonds, convertible bonds and precious metals ?). Market potential can be exploited by investing across a wide range.
- + Investing in assets denominated in a foreign currency can have a positive impact on unit values as a result of exchange rate movements.
- + Derivatives can be used to increase potential yields.
- + Precious metals ? (e.g. in the form of gold) can be used to increase potential yields.

RISKS

- Market risks: The securities in which the Management Company invests the sub-fund assets present opportunities for gain but also the possibility of risk. The ESG criteria restrict the selection of target investments in terms of category and number, sometimes considerably. If a sub-fund invests directly or indirectly in securities and other assets, it is subject to many general trends and tendencies on the markets, which are sometimes attributable to irrational factors, particularly on the securities markets. Losses can occur when the market value of the assets decreases against the cost price. If a unit holder disposes of units in a sub-fund at a time when the quoted price of the sub-fund assets is less than at the time of investment, then the unit holder will not recover the full value of the investment. While each sub-fund constantly strives to achieve growth, growth cannot be guaranteed. The risk exposure of the investor is, however, limited to the sum invested. There is no obligation to make additional capital contributions beyond investors' investments.
- Currency risks: If a sub-fund holds assets which are denominated in foreign currencies, it shall be subject to currency risk. In the event of a devaluation of the foreign currency against the reference currency of the subfund, the value of the assets held in foreign currencies shall fall.
- Credit risks: The fund may invest part of its assets in bonds. The issuers of these bonds could become insolvent, causing the bonds to lose some or all of their value.
- Interest change risks: Investing in securities at a fixed rate of interest is connected with the possibility that the current interest rate at the time of issuance of a security could change. If the current interest rate increases as against the interest at the time of issue, fixed rate securities will generally decrease in value. Conversely, if the current interest rate falls, fixed rate securities will increase.
- Risks relating to the use of derivatives: The fund may enter into derivative transactions for the purposes listed in the key information document (PRIIP-KID) and the sales prospectus. This means increased opportunities, but also increased risk of losses. The use of derivatives to hedge against losses may also reduce the profit opportunities of the fund.
- Risks of precious metals and commodities: Precious metals and commodities may be subject to greater price fluctuations. Trading prices may also fall.

Please read the Prospectus and particularly the RISK WARNINGS section and the specific annex of the subfund to understand the risks and benefits of this product.
